

⌘ Winner of the PIP Gertrude Stein Awards for Innovative Poetry in English 2005-2006

[that time gives it its form]

never barley

(symbol of frailty)

money or eggs

hazardous to

the holy man

a reply/ a riposte

a dishonor

to steal a mule

by treachery

in sleep

for example

discrete moves

in boxing or chess

(the rule as obstacle)

overeagerness

ingratitude too

or misrecognition

so many errors

create suspense

& by illusion

a world is

built

and collapses

[Pierre Bourdieu, 1980, from The Logic of Practice]

---

Reprinted from Jacket, no. 27 (April 2005). Copyright ©2005 by Maxine Chernoff.